June Garden Tips

@Gardeninsta on Instagram

Keep your garden happy & healthy – here are a few tips for this month:

– Lawns and vegetable gardens need one inch of water per week. Use a rain gauge to track weekly precipitation and water supplementally when we receive less than one inch of rain.

- To prevent diseases, don't mow grass when it is wet.
- Water newly planted trees and shrubs deeply (to the bottom of the root ball) at least once a week. They take 1-2 years to become established.
- Deadhead (remove spent flowers) perennials, annuals, and roses to encourage continued flowering.

- Cut back chrysanthemums *before July 4 so they will be bushier and less inclined to flop. Other tall late-blooming plants can be cut back now too - like Joe Pye Weed, Asters, and Willowleaf Sunflower.

- Remove suckers and water sprouts from fruit trees.

- Wait to thin apple fruit until after the "June drop", then thin each cluster to one best apple, and thin along the branch to one apple every 4-8".

- To prevent squash vine bores, start applying Bt to the stems when the plant starts flowering. Also bury parts of the squash vine in soil to encourage rooting (so if the main plant is harmed by borers you've encouraged a "new" plant to root).

- Side dress vegetables six weeks after planting - we like organic fertilizers like Espoma Plant-tone/Garden-tone or Symphony.

- Pick vegetables when they are young and tender. Harvest daily if possible.

- Add plant supports to potentially floppy flowers now, and support your tomatoes. We have plant supports and tomato cages available. Peppers benefit from cages too.

- Mulch prevents weeds and helps retain moisture in the soil.

Upcoming Events

Asheville Plein Air Painters

at Reems Creek Nursery

Tuesday, June 20

9:30 AM –1 PM

The Asheville Plein Air Painters will be painting at Reems Creek Nursery this coming Tuesday. You are welcome to come out and watch them paint. They will be scattered around the Garden Center with their easels set up and painting from life.

What does Plein Air mean? "En plein air" is a French expression for "in the open air". Usually artists will quickly capture a scene – drawing inspiration from the light and the outdoor landscape.

Plant a Pollinator Garden

10 –11:30 AM

With Tanya LaCorte & Ruth Gonzalez

Bee sweet to our pollinators! Whether you are planting porch pots or an entire yard...plant it and they will come! Create a smorgasbord of beautiful blooming plants and butterfly host plants that provide much-needed habitat for pollinators, butterflies, and hummingbirds. With an emphasis on native plants, these lively gardens are full of color, support wildlife, and bring you delight...read more

and register.

June is National Pollinator Month, and this coming week is National Pollinator Week!

Worried about winter damaged plants?

it's true – staff members are seeing new growth on some of their plants/branches that they thought were dead, so remain cautious about digging up and discarding any plants. Warmer soil and warmer June air temperatures help promote new growth on plants that appear to be dead, plus new growth may be pushed out from the roots (especially crape myrtle, hydrangea, and fig roots). This video was produced after the deep freeze at Christmas and discusses what to look for.
